

An Enduring Legacy

A PRECIOUS
GIFT

The Gift that Keeps On Giving

A bequest to Little Brothers will help us carry out our mission of welcoming and providing support to lonely elders by creating a caring, committed extended family around them, dedicated to alleviating their isolation and staying by their side throughout their remaining years.

A lump sum or a percentage of your estate will make all the difference in the lives of our Elder Friends and ensure we can uphold our mission for generations to come.

Paul-E. Jean (1937-2009) A touching testimonial

"Our father was always very sensitive to the human condition. Throughout his life, he was involved in many charities, which he supported through donations and his volunteer work. That is why he decided to include Little Brothers in his will, in order to improve the lives of seniors with no family or friends. We were profoundly saddened by his death in April 2009, but his generosity to Little Brothers survives him and comforts us."

Claude and H el ene Jean

Little Brothers offers personalized, caring support free of charge to the Elder Friends in our extended family. Our programs include:

- Long-term pairing with a volunteer
- Home and hospital visits
- Intergenerational activities
- Vacation retreats
- Special celebrations: birthdays, Christmas, Easter, the International Day of Older Persons and more
- Senior Wishes and Quality of Life programs

Simple and Straightforward

Your notary can advise you on the options that best suit your situation and your wishes. If you already have a will, you can have a special codicil drafted to make provision for Little Brothers. Charitable bequests can also be part of an effective tax planning strategy for you and your family. And various types of donations are tax-deductible, in whole or in part.

Types of planned giving

Specific bequest: A fixed amount or a specific asset.

Residuary bequest: All or a percentage of the net estate.

Universal bequest: All of the assets in an estate divided among the named beneficiaries.

Listed securities: Publicly traded shares, mutual fund units, bonds or other securities.

Life insurance: A policy listing Little Brothers as a beneficiary.

RRSP/RRIF: Retirement fund or plan that names Little Brothers as a beneficiary.

Charitable annuity: An arrangement that provides you with a guaranteed income for life or a designated period of time, while transferring capital to the recipient organization.

Property and valuables: Land, buildings, equipment, works of art, etc.

Endowment fund: A donation of capital that can be invested in your name, with the resulting income allotted to a specific program according to your wishes.

In memoriam fund: A special fund created to honour a deceased person to which loved ones can donate on an ongoing basis.

Give a Gift, Leave a Legacy

By remembering Little Brothers in your will, you'll be making sure we can continue to improve the quality of life of isolated seniors with no family or other sources of social support to turn to.

This gift from the heart means the world to our Elder Friends, as we affectionately call them, and to the entire Little Brothers family.

For more than 50 years, Little Brothers has relied on the generosity of people like you. Rest assured your donation, no matter what the amount, is vital in keeping seniors from growing old alone.

"Thank you for reaching out to elderly people who are all alone and, sadly, far too often forgotten by society."
